Mercedes-Benz Bank AMG Mercedes C-Klasse DTM 2011 „Bruno Spengler“

Mercedes-Benz Bank AMG Mercedes C-Klasse DTM 2011 „Bruno Spengler“

Schon seit dem Jahr 1988 ist Mercedes-Benz in der DTM aktiv und seit dem offiziellen Einstieg hat Mercedes-Benz die meisten Siege aller Hersteller erzielt. Dabei gilt die Mercedes-Benz C-Klasse als der erfolgreichste Fahrzeugtyp in der DTM Geschichte. Seit 1994 startet die C-Klasse in der faszinierenden Tourenwagen-Serie, wobei inzwischen drei verschiedene Modell-Generationen des fulminanten Tourenwagens zum Einsatz kamen. Die letzte lief erstmalig 2007 vom Band und wurde von Saison zu Saison stetig weiterentwickelt. Für die Version der Saison 2009 durchlief der leistungsstarke C-Klasse-Wagen neun Monate Entwicklungszeit, um selbst kleinste Details gründlich zu überarbeiten. Gemäß dem Reglement vom August 2009 durfte der Wagen bis Ende der Saison 2011 nicht wesentlich verändert werden. AMG Mercedes konzentrierte sich daher auf Details, darunter die Motoroptimierung, so dass der überarbeitete V8-Motor nun 500 PS leistet. Die Karosserie des C-Klasse-Wagens verfügt weiterhin über Stahlseitenwände, ein Stahldach sowie Flugzeugstahl für den Gitter-Rohrrahmen. Die Türen, Motorhaube, Spoiler und weitere Anbauteile basieren wie bisher auf kohlenstofffaserverstärktem Material.

Bruno Spengler, 1983 im Elsass geboren und seit 1997 Kanadier, fährt seit 2005 mit einem Mercedes in der DTM. Nach seiner Lehrsaison wechselte er im Folgejahr ins HWA-Werksteam. 2006 sicherte er sich souverän den Vize-Meistertitel, den er sich 2007 als bester Mercedes-Fahrer erneut erkämpfte. Ab 2008 ist der sympathische Kanadier immer unter den fünf Topfahrern der DTM zu finden. In der Saison 2011 verfehlte Spengler nur mit einem Punkt Rückstand erneut den Vize-Meistertitel und belegte, abermals als bester Mercedes-Fahrer, mit insgesamt 51 Punkten Rang 3 in der Gesamtwertung.

Mercedes-Benz has been active in the DTM since 1988 and since the official entry has won more titles than any other manufacturer. The Mercedes-Benz C Class is considered to be the most successful vehicle type in DTM history. The C Class has been taking part in this fascinating touring car series since 1994, during which time three different model generations of this brilliant touring car have been used. The last one rolled off the line for the first time in 2007 and was continuously developed from season to season. For the 2009 season version the powerful C Class underwent nine months development in order to thoroughly review it in minutest detail. According to the regulations of August 2009 the cars could not be significantly modified until the end of the 2011 season. AMG Mercedes therefore concentrated on details, including the optimisation of the engine, so that the revised V8 now delivered 500 bhp. The bodywork of the C Class still had steel side walls, a steel roof and aircraft steel for the tubular space frame. The doors, bonnet, spoiler and other attachments were still based on carbon fibre reinforced materials.

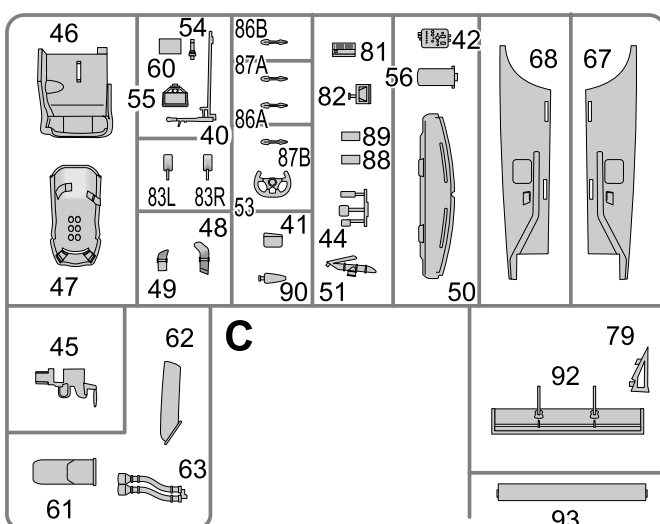

Bruno Spengler, born in 1983 in Alsace and a Canadian since 1997, has been driving a Mercedes in the DTM since 2005. After his novice season, for the next year he changed to the HWA works team. In 2006 he took the runner-up title in grand style and defended it in 2007 as the best Mercedes driver. Since 2008 this likeable Canadian has always been among the top five drivers in the DTM. In the 2011 season Spengler just missed the runner-up title by one point, but was still the best Mercedes driver, with a total of 51 points, ranked 3 in the overall standings.
